

FriendFinder Networks Achieves Another Victory in Cybersquatting Case

CAMPBELL — FriendFinder Networks Inc. (FFN), operator of the largest dating sites in the world including AdultFriendFinder.com, recently received a ruling in its favor against a cyber-squatter named Liangyun Lin (Lin). The ruling required Lin to terminate his registration of the domain names taiwanfriendfinder.com and seoulfriendfinder.com and transfer them to FFN.

The dispute began in January after Lin refused to transfer the domain names to FFN following his receipt of a cease and desist letter. FFN subsequently filed a Uniform Domain-Name Dispute-Resolution Policy (“UDRP”) case against Lin. Subsequently, a panelist entered the order in FFN’s favor.

In entering the order, the Panelist, Ho Hyun Nahm, found that the Lin's domain names were registered and used in bad faith, that the names were causing confusion among consumers, and that Lin had had no rights or legitimate interests in the domain names. Lin’s use infringed upon the rights of FFN in its registered trademarks.

This latest victory underscores FFN's commitment and corporate policy of enforcing its trademark and intellectual property rights on a global basis.

About FFN

FriendFinder Networks Inc. is a leading internet-based social networking and multimedia entertainment company operating several of the most heavily visited social networking websites in the world. The company has also won virtually every major award from dating industry insiders and review site critics. Some of its notable websites include Cams.com, AdultFriendFinder.com, FriendFinder.com, AsiaFriendFinder.com and ALT.com.

For more information please visit www.ffn.com

###